

McMahon Group Acknowledges Exemplary Staff

The McMahon Group annually evaluates the preceding year, noting the achievements of its various departments and the company overall. When the numbers for 2016 rolled in, we had a lot to celebrate—and so, we did.

A big part of that celebration was highlighting the contributions of the following outstanding employees. We thank them for their hard work and our readers for their continued enthusiasm for our medical journalism, which has made many of our publications the best-read in their specialty.

2016

SUPPORT PERSON OF THE YEAR

This award is meant to acknowledge two recipients belonging to a group of departments that together serve as the backbone of the company. DIANE LODISE is the Director of Facilities Management, Convention Coordinator and Sales Assistant. In 2017, she will be coordinating 64 conventions for all publications.

SUPPORT PERSON OF THE YEAR

VICTOR TLEPSHEV is a Junior Developer in the IT Department, regulating many of the digital products, maintaining the content management system and redeveloping website designs.

EDITOR OF THE YEAR

KRISTIN JANNAZONE is a Copy Editor for all publications, educational reviews and client-based projects. She is one of two members of the Copy Edit Department. Copy editing requires a keen eye for grammar, spelling and other details while balancing priorities and deadlines.

SALES ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

JUSTIN KABACK serves as the Account Manager of both Pain Medicine News and Anesthesiology News. This recognition celebrates his dedication and creative thinking to enhance sales in both publications, along with continued excellent customer service for all of his clients.

SALESPERSON OF THE YEAR

RICHARD TUORTO is the Senior Group Publication Director for Anesthesiology News and Pain Medicine News, both of which are rated as the best-read publications in their fields. He earned this award for the 11th year in a row for generating the most revenue in the calendar year.

PERSON OF THE YEAR

MARTIN BARBIERI received this award for his unrivaled commitment to and enthusiasm for his role as Production Manager for several of the company's publications. He was recently promoted to Associate Director of Production for his professionalism and dedication to producing high-quality publications.

THE MCMAHON GROUP PARTNERS' AWARD

The Partners' Award is given periodically to an individual whose efforts have helped shape the fortunes of the company. This year's winner is HAYNES WHITNEY, President of Democrat Printing of Little Rock, Ark., which has been a trusted partner of McMahon Group for decades.